INTRODUCTION

Filipino cuisine centres around the combination of sweet (tamis), sour (asim), and salty (alat), although in Bicol, the Cordilleras and among Muslim Filipinos, spicy (anghang) is a base of cooking flavor.

Counterpoint is a feature in Filipino cuisine which normally comes in a pairing of something sweet with something salty. Examples include: champorado (a sweet cocoa rice porridge), being paired with tuyo (salted, sun-dried fish); dinuguan (a savory stew made of pig's blood and innards), paired with puto (sweet, steamed rice cakes); unripe fruits such as green mangoes (which are only slightly sweet but very sour), are eaten dipped in salt or bagoong; the use of cheese (which is salty-sweet) in sweetcakes (such as bibingka and puto), as well as an ice cream flavoring.

Cooking and eating in the Philippines has traditionally been an informal and communal affair centered around the family kitchen. Food tends to be served all at once and not in course

RECIPES

FILIPINO PORK BARBEQUE RECIPE

- Prep Time: 30 Minutes
- Cook Time: 20 Minutes
- Additional Time: 8 Hours
- Total Time: 8 Hours 50 Minutes
- Yield:10 Servings

Filipino pork bbq is one of the most classic dishes. You'll find it as often at backyard parties as you will among the many street food vendors. Among Filipinos, it seems that everyone has their own secret pork barbeque recipe.

This Filipino pork bbq recipe takes a sweet and tangy approach with loads of garlic, soy sauce, and a twist of 7-UP for tenderness and flavor. My favorite pork barbeque recipes have a lightly sticky sauce and are cooked over a fire with a slightly charred finish.

Ingredients:

- 1.2 lbs pork butt. Slice to 1-inch wide and 1/4-inch thick
- 1/2 cup 7-UP
- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1/2 cup white vinegar
- 1 cup calamansi or lemon juice
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 tbsp black pepper
- 6 cloves garlic. Minced
- 1/2 cup banana ketchup
- 2 tbsp sesame oil

Instructions:

- Rinse pork strips and pat dry with a paper towel.
- Combine 7-UP, soy sauce, vinegar, 1/2 cup of calamansi or lemon juice, brown sugar, garlic, and pepper in a large bowl.
- Add pork and massage meat to fully incorporate. Marinate, turning meat once or twice, in the refrigerator for at least 4 hours or overnight for best results.
- Skewer each piece of pork lengthwise.
- In a small bowl combine the rest of the juice, banana ketchup, and sesame oil. Set aside
- Grill meat kebabs on bbq for 2 to 3 minutes each side.
- When the pork begins to brown, baste the meat with the remaining lemon or calamansi juice and banana ketchup mixture.
- Remove from heat and serve hot.

EASY PORK SINIGANG RECIPE

- Prep Time: 15 Minutes
- Cook Time: 1 Hour
- Total Time: 1 Hour 15 Minutes
- Yield:6 servings

Pork sinigang is one of the staples in our house. Rarely a week goes by that there isn't a pot of this sour and tangy Filipino sinigang soup simmering on our stove. We'll eat it for lunch, dinner, and even breakfast sometimes.

It's savory, flavorful, and an absolute hit on cold days or when someone is fighting a cold. The tamarind soup base gives sinigang a nice zing. And it can be altered easily by substituting in any number of veggies. Or you can switch out the pork for seafood such as shrimp.

Ingredients:

- 1 tbsp. vegetable oil
- 1 small onion. Chopped
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 plum tomatoes. Diced
- 1 lb. pork shoulder
- 4 cups chicken broth
- 1 (1.41 oz.) package tamarind soup base
- 1/2 lb. fresh green beans. Trimmed
- 3 cups fresh or frozen spinach

Instructions:

- Heat the vegetable oil in a skillet over medium heat.
- Stir in the onion. Cook, stirring frequently until the onion has softened. (approx. 3-5 minutes)
- Season with salt.
- Stir in tomatoes and pork.
- Cover and reduce heat to medium-low.
- Turn pork regularly until pork has browned on all sides.
- Pour in chicken broth and tamarind soup base.
- Bring to a boil. Then reduce heat to medium-low.
- Simmer until the pork is tender and cooked through. (approx. 30 minutes)
- Stir in green beans and spinach. Cook until tender
- Serve hot over rice.

EASY FILIPINO CHICKEN ADOBO RECIPE

- Prep Time: 20 Minutes
- Cook Time: 50 Minutes
- Total Time: 1 Hour 10 Minutes

Chicken adobo is one of the most iconic and classic Filipino recipes. Every family has their own twist on this delicious and saucy meal. And every family believes that theirs is the best.

This easy chicken adobo recipe will satisfy your taste buds any day of the week. It's best served over a bed of rice and enjoyed with a side of sinigang.

Ingredients:

- 2 tbsp. vegetable oil
- 3 lbs. bone-in, skinless chicken thigh and drumsticks
- 1 large onion. Cut into large chunks
- 4 cloves minced garlic
- 1/3 cup white vinegar
- 2/3 cup low sodium soy sauce
- 1 tbsp. garlic powder
- 2 tbsp. whole black peppercorns
- 2 bay leaves

Instructions:

- Heat the vegetable oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat.
- Cook chicken until it becomes golden brown on the outsides. (approx. 6 minutes). Then remove from skillet and set aside.

- Add vinegar and soy sauce to the skillet and season with garlic powder, peppercorns, and bay leaf. Simmer ingredients together for 5 minutes.
- Add chicken and bring to a boil. Then reduce heat to medium-low, cover, and simmer until chicken is tender and thoroughly cooked (approx. 35-40 minutes).
- Serve over rice.

BIHON PANCIT RECIPE (FILIPINO)

This is a deliciously sweet and savory Filipino pancit recipe that’s easy to prepare and ready in less than 25 minutes.

- Prep Time: 10 Minutes
- Cook Time: 10 Minutes
- Total Time: 20 Minutes
- Yield: 4 People

Ingredients:

- 1 tablespoon peanut oil (or vegetable oil)
- 1 pound boneless, skinless chicken breast (sliced into bite size pieces)
- 2 cloves garlic (finely chopped)
- 1 small onion (finely chopped)
- 8 ounces pack bihon noodles, vermicelli noodles or rice noodles
- 1 1/2 cups mixed vegetables such as carrots, cabbage and green beans, scallions, (chopped bite size)
- salt and pepper to taste
- lemon wedges (optional)

Pancit Sauce:

- 2 cups low sodium chicken stock
- 2 tablespoons dark soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon oyster sauce
- 1 teaspoon sugar

Instructions:

- In a wok or a large pan over medium heat, add oil and chicken and cook until tender. Transfer to a plate and set aside.
- Add garlic and onion and cook for 2 minutes. Add the cooked chicken and season with a little salt and pepper.
- Stir in the veggies and cook for another 3-4 minutes or until a little tender.
- Add all the ingredients for the pancit sauce and bring to a boil.
- Add rice noodles and stir until all the noodles are coated with the sauce. Keep on stirring and cooking until the noodles are tender (3-4 minutes).
- Add more stock (or water) if the dish is dry before the noodles are tender.
- Season with salt and pepper and more soy sauce if necessary. Serve immediately with lemon wedges.

Note: Got leftovers? Save this bihon pancit in an airtight storage container and refrigerate it for up to 3 days. To warm up the leftovers, microwave with the lid on for 1-2 minutes.

CHICKEN AFRITADA (FILIPINO STEW)

This is a dish we make back in the Philippines. It's really delicious, and you can substitute pork for chicken or mix them both. Great over rice!

- Prep Time: 40 mins
- Cook Time: 48 mins
- Total Time: 1 hr 28 mins
- Servings: 6
- Yield: 6 servings

Ingredients:

- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 3 cloves garlic, crushed and chopped

- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 cup seeded and chopped tomatoes
- 1 (3 pound) whole chicken, cut into pieces
- 3 cups water
- 1 cup tomato sauce (Optional)
- 3 potatoes, quartered
- 1 green bell pepper, seeded and cut into matchsticks
- 1 carrot, chopped
- salt and ground black pepper to taste

Instructions:

- Heat oil in a large wok over medium heat; add garlic. Cook and stir until fragrant, about 3 minutes. Add onion; cook and stir until translucent, about 5 minutes. Stir in tomatoes; cook, mashing with a fork, until flesh and skin separate, about 5 minutes.
- Place chicken in the wok; cook and stir until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Pour in water. Cover and bring to a boil. Stir in tomato sauce; simmer until flavors combine, about 15 minutes.
- Mix potatoes into the wok; simmer until tender, about 10 minutes. Stir in bell pepper and carrot; simmer until softened, about 5 minutes. Season with salt and pepper.

MECHADO FILIPINO BEEF STEW

Comfort in the form of a hearty stew can be found in nearly every country's cuisine, and the Philippines is no different. Mechado is the Philippine version of the ubiquitous comfort food with a wonderful depth of flavor that comes from browned garlic, marinated beef, and the complex flavors of patis, or fish sauce.

- Prep Time: 30 minutes
- Cook Tim: 1 hour 20 minutes
- Total Time: 1 hour 50 minutes
- Servings : 4 servings

Ingredients:

- 1 1/2 lbs beef for stew
- juice of half a lemon
- 1/4 cup good dark soy sauce I like Silver Swan, found in Asian markets
- freshly ground black pepper to taste
- 3 tablespoons canola oil
- 3 cloves garlic minced or crushed
- 1 medium onion diced
- 1 teaspoon fish sauce (patis)
- 1 cup tomato sauce
- 1 1/2 cups water
- several dashes of Tabasco
- 2-3 cups beef stock
- 2 bay leaves

- 1 red bell pepper sliced
- 2 russet potatoes peeled and cut into 2 inch chunks
- 2 carrots peeled and chopped in 2 inch pieces
- kosher salt
- freshly ground black pepper

Instructions:

- Marinate beef in soy sauce, lemon, and black pepper for at least 30 minutes.
- Brown garlic in oil and set aside.
- Brown beef, working in batches if necessary (reserve the marinade).
- Return beef to pot, add onions and season with fish sauce (patis).
- When the onions are wilted, add tomato sauce and water and stir.
- After about two minutes, add Tabasco, beef stock, 2 tablespoons of reserved marinade, bay leaves and bell pepper.
- Let come to a boil, then lower heat to simmer. Add reserved garlic. Cover the pot with the lid, and let it stew for about 1 1/2 hours (see notes), stirring occasionally.
- When the meat is tender, add potatoes and carrots. Continue cooking until the potatoes are fork tender, about 20 minutes more.
- Season with salt and pepper to taste. Serve over rice.

Notes:

Note on simmering the stew: In general, it takes about 45 minutes for the meat to just start getting tender. Check the beef at this time and continue cooking as necessary. I usually try to simmer for about 45 minutes to an hour, longer if I want it really tender – the longer it cooks, the better it tastes.

Using a pressure cooker (e.g. Instant Pot): Mechado is delicious when made in a pressure cooker. At the point where it is time to simmer the stew, cook in a pressure cooker for 30 minutes at high pressure. Then add the potatoes and carrots and cook again for about 10-15 minutes on high pressure. Allow the mechado to simmer in your pressure cooker, uncovered, afterward to reduce the liquid a bit more.

FILIPINO BREAKFAST TORTA - BEEF OMELET

This hearty Filipino breakfast torta is easy to make and a great solution for a quick breakfast, brunch, or supper.

- Prep Time: 10 minutes
- Cook Time: 20 minutes
- Total Time: 30 minutes
- Servings: 4 servings

Equipment:

- Mixing bowls
- Non-stick skillet
- Ladle

Ingredients:

- cup chopped onions
- 2 large garlic cloves minced
- 1 pound ground beef or pork
- 1 tablespoon fish or soy sauce
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 6 large eggs beaten
- 2 tablespoons oil divided
- 2 green onions thinly sliced

Instructions:

- Heat two teaspoons of the oil in a large skillet. Add onions and garlic and sauté, stirring often, until translucent, about 5 minutes.
- Add ground beef or pork and cook until cooked through, stirring often and breaking large clumps with a wooden spoon, about 8 to 10 minutes; season with salt and pepper. Drain the beef mixture and let cool for 10 minutes.
- Add eggs and fish or soy sauce to the cooled beef mixture and stir to combine.
- In an 8-inch non-stick skillet, heat one teaspoon of the oil over medium-low heat. With a ladle, scoop some of the mixture (about ¼) into the hot oil. Let omelet set for 3 minutes, then sprinkle with some of the green onions. Flip omelet and cook 2 minutes longer. Transfer to a plate. Repeat with remaining oil, egg-beef mixture, and green onions until the mixture is gone.
- Serve omelet individually, or stack on top of each other and cut into 4 layered slices. Serve with ketchup or sriracha chili sauce.

Notes:

- To flip the breakfast torta more efficiently, try upturning the skillet to flip it onto a plate and then transfer it back into the skillet with a spatula. It helps with flipping large, fragile things like this!
- Ensure that the ground beef is fully cooked before removing it from the skillet.
- Make this breakfast torta vegetarian by omitting the ground beef and adding in more veggies. Alternatively you can use plant-based 'meat' crumbles.

FILIPINO STYLE SPAGHETTI - SWEET AND SALTY!

Filipino style spaghetti is unlike any spaghetti you've had before. It's sweet, made with banana ketchup, topped with a mountain of sharp cheddar cheese and has hotdogs.

- Prep Time: 15 Mins
- Cook Time: 25 Mins
- Total Time: 40 Mins
- Servings: 6 People

Ingredients:

- 1 tbsp oil we used canola oil
- 1/2 lb hotdogs (about 6 pieces) sliced into 1/2 inch thick pieces
- 1 pc medium onion chopped
- 2 cloves garlic minced
- 1 1/2 lbs ground beef
- 15 oz tomato sauce
- 2 oz tomato paste
- 4 oz banana ketchup
- 2 tbsp heavy cream
- 1/8 cup granulated sugar see notes
- salt and pepper to taste
- 1 lb spaghetti cooked al dente
- sharp cheddar cheese grated

Instructions:

- Using a large saucepan on medium heat, fry hotdog in oil until lightly brown around the edges. Remove from pan.
- Using the same pan, sauté garlic and onion until translucent. Stir in ground beef and cook until the beef is browned (5-6 minutes).
- Add the hotdogs, tomato sauce, tomato paste, banana ketchup, heavy cream and sugar. Season with salt and pepper. Stir to combine. Cover and let simmer for 15 minutes.
- Serve meat sauce on top of cooked spaghetti. Sprinkle with a generous helping of cheddar cheese.

Notes:

When tasting the meat sauce on its own, it will taste very sweet. So you might end up over-seasoning it with salt to offset the sweetness. A better way is to taste the sauce with some spaghetti. It will taste sweeter than your usual bolognese - what you’re looking for is a nice sweet and salty balance

FILIPINO PICADILLO

- Prep Time: 15 mins
- Cook Time: 45 mins
- Total Time: 1 hour
- Yield: 4-6 servings

Ingredients:

- 2 cups uncooked white rice
- 3 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil, divided
- 2 ½ cups yellow potatoes, peeled and diced into bite sized pieces (one pound)
- 2 cups carrots, peeled and cut into ½ inch dice
- 1½ cups onion, diced
- 1 tablespoon fresh garlic, minced
- 1 pound 80/20 ground beef
- ½ pound ground pork
- 1 tablespoon tomato paste
- ½ pound fresh plum or San Marzano tomatoes, seeded, corded and diced (alternatively, you could use a 15-ounce can of diced tomatoes with liquid)
- ½ teaspoon kosher salt
- ¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- ½ cup raisins
- 1 tablespoon fish sauce
- 3 tablespoons good quality soy sauce
- 1 teaspoon chili garlic paste
- 1 cup water
- 1 cup frozen peas, thawed
- Fried egg for each serving

- Tabasco sauce, served as a condiment
- Savory Fried Plantains

Instructions:

- Begin cooking rice by adding twice as much water as rice to a pan or rice pot. Cook rice while preparing the dish.
- In a large skillet or sauté pan, over medium to medium high heat, place 2 tablespoons of olive oil and once shimmering, add potato and carrots.
- Fry this for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. They should start to brown and be just shy of tender. Remove these to a bowl with a slotted spoon but leave oil in pan.
- Add remaining tablespoon of oil and onion and sauté for three minutes.
- Add garlic and sauté for one minute.
- Add the ground beef and ground pork and sauté for about eight minutes or until browned.
- Make a hole in the center and add tomato paste and stir that for one minute.
- Add the tomatoes, salt, pepper, raisins, fish sauce, soy sauce, chili garlic paste, water and reserved cooked potato and carrot mixture.
- Reduce heat to medium and simmer until most of the liquid has evaporated.
- Add peas, stir and remove from heat.
- In a fry pan, fry enough sunny side or over easy eggs as needed for each dinner guest.
- Serve by placing cooked white rice in a serving bowl, top with the Picadillo then top with one fried egg on top of each portion.
- Serve with Tabasco on the side along with Savory Fried Plantains.

MUNG BEAN SOUP (GINISANG MUNGGO)

This Mung Bean Soup or Ginisang Munggo is a Filipino favorite that is really healthy and packed with vitamins and lots of nutritional benefits. Try my thick and creamy version and love it...

- Prep Time: 10 minutes
- Cook Time: 40 minutes
- Total Time: 55 minutes

Ingredients:

- 2 cups mung bean - (Monggo Beans) - washed and drained
- 5-7 cups water
- 2 tablespoons oil
- ½ cup pork belly - - sliced thinly
- 3 tablespoons fish sauce - or 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 cloves garlic - - minced
- 1 medium onion - -chopped
- 2 pieces tomato - - sliced
- 2 cups bitter gourd - (ampalaya) - optional
- 1 stalked celery - -chopped
- ½ cup smoked fish meat - (tinapa) - shredded
- 1 cup pork rind - (chicharon) chopped in smaller pieces
- 2 cups spinach - - or bitter gourd leaves

Instructions:

- In a pot, boil the monggo beans in 5 cups of water over medium heat. Once it boils, cover the pot and reduce heat to low and let simmer until tender about 30 minutes.
- Transfer the content of the pot in a deep bowl if using a stab mixer or in a blender, pulse to make a puree.
- On the same pot, heat oil and cook the pork belly until browned and fat is rendered.
- Add garlic, onion, and tomatoes and saute until tender. Add fish sauce and cook for another minute. If using salt, it may be added on the last step instead.
- Add the pureed Monggo beans to the pot. Add 1-2 cups of water if it is too thick. When it starts to simmer, add the bitter gourd, celery and smoked fish. Let it simmer for another 2-3 minutes.
- Lastly, add the pork rind (chicharon) and spinach. Season with salt if needed. Turn off heat.
- Transfer to your soup bowl and serve while hot with rice.

BUKO PANDAN SALAD

Buko Pandan salad is a Filipino cold dessert from young coconut meat and Pandan-flavoured jelly that is very easy to make. Try this special Buko Pandan Salad recipe with added tapioca/sago pearls, kaong and nata de coco.

- Prep Time: 30 minutes
- Cook Time: 10 minutes
- Total Time: 40 minutes
- Servings: 12

Ingredients:

- 3 cups coconut juice
- ½ pouch (12g) jelly powder (gulaman) - - use green if available. Gelatin may also be used
- ½ cup sugar
- 6-8 pieces Pandan leaves - - or use pandan extracts
- 1 can (14 oz) sweetened condensed milk
- 1 pack (250mL) all-purpose cream - - or table cream / whipping cream
- 2 cups coconut meat - - shredded into strips
- ½ cup tapioca pearls - - uncooked
- 1 bottle (12oz) kaong (sugar palm fruit) - - syrup drained and rinsed
- 1 bottle (12oz) nata de coco (coconut gel) - - syrup drained and rinsed

Instructions:

- In a pot, bring 1 liter of water to boil. Add the small sago or tapioca pearls and cook for 15 minutes or until translucent. Stir occasionally to prevent from sticking together.
- Turn off heat and strain the sago pearls using a fine sieve. Rinse thoroughly until the sago or tapioca pearls are no longer hot to touch. Set aside.
- In a pot, add coconut juice and dissolve the jelly powder or gulaman. Add the sugar and pandan leaves and bring it to boil while stirring constantly.
- Once it boils, remove from heat and pour into a square pan and let cool to set. You may place it in the fridge to fasten the process. Once ready, cut the gelatin into cubes.
- In a big bowl, add the cream and sweetened condensed milk and stir until well blended. Add the coconut strips, tapioca pearls, pandan jelly cubes, kaong and nata de coco and gently mix until well combined.
- Cover bowl and leave it in the fridge to chill or transfer to another container if planning to freeze.

SARI SARI

Sari sari is a classic Filipino dish featuring the bitter melon, but no two cooks will prepare it the same way. Traditionally loaded with pork, shrimp, and all sorts of other mystery meats, few vegan versions exist.

Though my take is far from traditional, needless to say, replicating the savory and seafood-y flavors were a breeze thanks to the abundance of umami found in wakame seaweed, fermented black beans, and everyone's favorite Asian seasoning, soy sauce. Don't skimp on a single one of those secret ingredients, or the stew will suffer. Such a simple combination of vegetables requires love and attention to shine, which is exactly the lesson I took away from working with bitter melon.

- Prep Time : 20 Minutes
- Cook Time: 40 Minutes
- Additional Time: 20 Minutes
- Total Time: 1 Hour 20 Minutes

Ingredients:

- 1 Medium Bitter Melon
- 2 Tablespoons Olive Oil
- 4 Garlic Cloves, Finely Minced
- 1-Inch Fresh Ginger, Peeled, and Finely Minced
- 8 Ounces Seitan, Torn or Chopped into 1/2-Inch Chunks
- 2 Medium Tomatoes, Diced
- 2 Medium Filipino/Long Eggplants, Sliced into 1/2-Inch Rounds
- 1/3 Pound String Beans, Cut into 1-Inch Pieces
- 2 Tablespoons Fermented Black Bean Sauce
- 2 Tablespoons Rice Vinegar
- 2 Tablespoons Tomato Paste
- 2 Tablespoons Soy Sauce

- 5 – 6 Cups Vegetable Broth
- 1 Tablespoon Instant Wakame Flakes

Instructions:

- You'll want to start preparing the bitter melon first, since it requires the most time and labor. The rest of the stew assembly will fly by.
- Slice the bitter melon in half lengthwise and use a large spoon to scoop and scrape out the seeds. Remove any additional inner membrane as well, and discard. Slice the seeded gourd into 1/4-inch half moons and toss them in a large bowl with a generous pinch of salt. Don't be shy because it will be washed away later on; go for 1/2 teaspoon at least. Let sit for at least 20 minutes while you slice and chop the remaining vegetables.

- Bring a medium pot of water up to a roiling boil. Add in the salted bitter melon and cook for about 10 minutes. Drain and immediately rinse with cold water.

- Return the pot to the stove over medium heat and add the oil. Once shimmering gently, begin to saute the garlic and ginger. After two minutes, introduce the seitan. Stir frequently and cook until the mixture is aromatic and the chunks of seitan are lightly browned all over; about 10 minutes. Add in the rest of the vegetables together, sauteing for an additional 5 – 8 minutes.

- Pour in the first 5 cups of vegetable broth along with all of the remaining ingredients. Mix well, reduce the heat to medium-low, and simmer for about 20 minutes, until all of the vegetables are fork-tender. Add more broth if you'd prefer a soupier stew, and serve steaming hot! Pair with sticky rice to complete the meal.

Notes: If you can't find or truly can't stand bitter melon, try substituting chayote, or if all else fails, humble zucchini, instead.

FILIPINO LUMPIA SKILLET

- Prep Time: 10 mins
- Cook Time: 15 mins
- Total Time: 25 mins
- Servings: 5

Ingredients:

- 1 tbsp refined coconut oil or light olive oil
- 1 lb ground pork
- 1 tsp kosher salt, plus more to taste
- 1/2 tsp freshly ground black pepper
- 1/2 medium yellow onion, finely minced, about 2/3 cup
- 8 cloves fresh garlic, minced
- 2 inch section ginger, minced, about 3 tbsp
- 1 can sliced water chestnuts, drained, patted dry, roughly chopped
- 4-5 large mushrooms, sliced thin, about 1 cup
- 1/2 head green or napa cabbage, about 8 cups shaved as thinly as possible
- 1/2 cup green onions, sliced very thin
- 1/2 tsp sugar
- 1/3 cup low-sodium soy sauce
- 8 oz fully-cooked frozen salad shrimp, thawed and patted dry
- 1/2 cup roasted peanuts, crushed or chopped

TOPPING:

- 1/4-1/2 cup sweet chili sauce (optional)

Instructions:

- In a large skillet over medium high heat, warm the oil. Add the pork, crumbling it as it cooks, about 5 minutes. Sprinkle with ½ tsp salt and ¼ tsp pepper. Add the onion, ginger, garlic, water chestnuts, and mushrooms to the skillet. Continue cooking and stirring until the vegetables have softened and the skillet is fragrant, about 2-4 minutes.

- Add the cabbage and green onions, continue cooking and toss to wilt, about 2 minutes. Add the remaining ½ tsp salt, ¼ tsp pepper, sugar, soy sauce, shrimp, and peanuts. Stir to combine. Cook about 2 minutes, until the shrimp is warm. Taste and adjust the salt, as needed. Scoop into bowls and drizzle with sweet chili sauce before serving. Enjoy!

Notes:

You can find salad shrimp in the frozen section of most grocery stores. It is sold fully cooked, de-veined and peeled. Simply thaw the shrimp in a strainer under cold running water. It should only take a few minutes to thaw. Canned shrimp may be substituted for the frozen and thawed shrimp in this recipe.

SINANGAG (FILIPINO GARLIC FRIED RICE)

- Yield: Serves 4

Ingredients:

- Butter (optional; can also use vegetable oil)
- Vegetable oil
- 4 eggs
- Salt and pepper
- 12 cloves garlic, minced
- 4 cups cooked long-grain rice
- Soy sauce
- 2 green onions, chopped

Instructions:

- Heat 2 teaspoons of butter or oil in a medium skillet over moderate heat. Beat the eggs with a dash of salt and pepper. Pour them into the pan and cook until the center is set. Turn the omelet out onto a plate and set aside. When it is cool enough to handle, cut it into strips about 1/4-inch wide x 2- or 3-inches long.

- Using the same pan or a separate wok, if you prefer, heat a tablespoon of oil over moderate heat and add the minced garlic. Fry the garlic, stirring constantly to prevent it from burning. When the garlic is crispy and golden, remove it from the pan (leaving the garlicky oil in the pan) and set aside.
- Add 2 more tablespoons of oil to the pan or wok and stir in the rice. Make sure all the rice is coated with oil and then spread it across the pan in an even layer. Cook for a couple of minutes, then stir and repeat this process until the rice is heated through and starting to brown. If you like crispy bits, you can continue to fry it longer.

- Stir 1 teaspoon of soy sauce into the rice, taste, and add more if needed. Remove from heat.

- Serve the rice garnished with egg strips, scallions, and a little fried garlic. Place the remaining garlic in a bowl on the side so individuals can add more if they like.

EASY CASSAVA CAKE RECIPE

Cassava cake is a Filipino dessert made from grated cassava (manioc). Here's a really easy recipe with deliciously rich and creamy custard topping. A perfect dessert for special occasions but also great for coffee or tea time.

- Prep Time: 10 minutes
- Cook Time: 1 hour 20 minutes
- Total Time: 1 hour 30 minutes
- Servings: 10

Ingredients:

For The Cake:

- 1 pack (16 oz) frozen, grated cassava - - thawed
- 1 cup desiccated coconut - - (optional)
- ¾ can (1 can is 14 oz) condensed milk
- ¾ can (1 can is 12.05 fl oz) evaporated milk
- ¾ can (1 can is 13.5 fl oz) coconut milk
- 5 tablespoons sugar
- 2 egg yolks

For The Custard Topping:

- ¼ can condensed milk
- ¼ can evaporated milk
- ¼ can coconut milk
- 2 egg yolks

- 1 tablespoon flour (dissolved in 2 tablespoons milk)

Instructions:

- Grease pan or baking dish with butter and set aside.
- In a big, deep bowl, combine all the ingredients for the cassava cake and mix well until the sugar is dissolved.
- Pour the mixture into the greased pan or baking dish and bake for 45 minutes to 1 hour at 375°F/180°C.
- After the cake is baked, combine and mix all the ingredients for the custard in a bowl. Pour this on top of the pre-baked cassava cake and bake for another 15-25 minutes or until custard is cooked and turns golden.

Notes: It may be served while still warm but I like it best when it has stayed at least overnight in the fridge.

FILIPINO EGG PIE RECIPE

Egg Pie is a classic Filipino dessert or snack. Try this easy Filipino Egg Pie recipe and enjoy the creamy, delicate yet firm egg custard in buttery, flaky crust that is perfect afternoon snack.

- Prep Time: 30 minutes
- Cook Time: 45 minutes
- Total Time: 1 hour 15 minutes
- Servings: 10

Ingredients:

Pie Crust:

- 1 ¼ cups flour
- ¼ block (½ stick/ 2oz./ 57g.) butter - - cut into small cubes
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2-4 tablespoons ice water

Filling:

- 3 large eggs
- 1 large egg (white and yolk separated)
- 6 fluid ounces all-purpose cream - or heavy-cream
- 6 fluid ounces full-fat milk - or evaporated milk
- ½ cup sweetened condensed milk (depending on how sweet you like it)
- teaspoons vanilla extract

Instructions:

- In a mixing bowl mix together the flour, sugar, and salt. Cut in butter using the mixer by pulsing until mixture resembles coarse meal, with a few pea-size pieces of butter remaining. Add water a tablespoon at a time, pulsing until dough is crumbly but holds together when pressed. Press the dough together to form a ball.

- Place the pie dough on a floured surface or on a rolling mat and roll it out thinly to a 14-inch round sheet. Gently fold the round dough sheet in half and then in a quarter. Place the dough on a 9-inch pie form with the pointed part exactly at the middle. Unfold the pie dough and gently fit dough into bottom and sides of the plate without tearing it. Using kitchen shears, trim dough to a 1-inch overhang; fold under, and press gently to seal. Crimp edges if desired. Refrigerate 30 minutes to an hour.

- Preheat oven to 350°F/170°C.

- In a large mixing bowl, combine and whisk the 3 eggs and the separated egg yolk. Gradually add the condensed milk while whisking. Add the vanilla extract and continue whisking until all ingredients are well combined. Add the evaporated milk and all-purpose cream and mix well with other ingredients.

- In a separate bowl, beat the egg white using an electric mixer until it forms soft peaks. Fold the beaten egg white into the mixture. (The beaten egg white will give the top of the egg pie a brown color after baking.)

- Pour the filling on the refrigerated pie crust and bake on the lowest rack for 15 minutes at 350°F/170°C then lower the heat to 325°F/160°C and continue baking for 30-40 minutes or until the toothpick inserted in the filling comes out clean.

Notes:

You can skip the addition of cream and just add the same amount of evaporated milk.

This recipe makes a light, delicate, jiggly egg custard. If you prefer a firmer custard, skip the cream and just use a total of 250ml of evaporated milk.

CONCLUSION

Filipino recipes are delicious and very easy to make.
